1. The question of assigning [ ] has now become academic inasmuch as she has become engaged and declines to accept an overseas position. The slot for which we originally had her tentatively in mind for your information was not that of Research-translator but as a Research-clerical-filing.

2. We are taking steps to recruit a competent woman to handle the financial details of the EDICT Project. We have in mind a person who may be transferred to us from [ ]'s organization and who, in that case, would be available for relatively speedy transfer overseas. This individual has had a wide variety of fiscal experience and is well regarded here. Any revision of the T. O. necessary to accommodate such a position will be effected and you will be advised.

3. With regard to the method of your accounting, it is immaterial to us whether you use a Class A or Class B basis and you may use either method which is best suited to your available personnel and to your needs. It is the feeling of our present Finance Officer that a Class A basis would not necessarily require more time or personnel than a Class B basis, and that you might well find it advisable to return to a Class A basis even before the assignment to you of additional fiscal personnel.
